

WPPM Radio Shows

Fall 2017

215 Sports

We cover the top news, games, and drama throughout the sports world. Hosted by Ernest Drummond, Terrell Willis, and Devon DeShields.

50 Shades of Jazz

Weekly music show curated by musicologist, DJ Affirmation, who spins jazz vinyl cuts from the 60s to today. He also features jazz crossover music from hip hop, R&B, gospel, blues, and pop music genres.

And Seen...

Frank Bellina assembles an audio collage covering a myriad of topics-either current or dated; drawing from many genres of music and other non-musical sources (spoken word recordings) "from the simple to the sublime"--and maybe silly and serious at the same time.

Alicia's Peace - Saturdays 4-6pm

Dr Alicia Bullock, (she prefers to just be called, "Alicia") plays the American Artform known as Jazz, mixed in with internationally renowned music from other artists whose genre should not be "categorized" such as - Jill Scott, Fela Anikulapo Kuti, the Brand New Heavies, in addition to, independent artists such as Amel Larrieux. You can also RUE, Raise your voice, Understand your voice, Express your voice in our corner of the airwaves where we "stir" up our Voices.

Black Tribbles

Sci-fi, comic books, movies, video games, cartoons; it all gets tossed around by the 5-headed hairy hoard of Black Tribbles—creator/producer Len Webb aka BatTribble, co-producer Kennedy Allen aka Storm Tribble, Erik Darden aka Master Tribble, Randy Green aka SuperTribble and Jason Richardson aka Spider-Tribble. The team reveals untold stories of geek history, showcases new and upcoming projects, and engages in thought-provoking conversation and provides critical insight into a culture often devoid of a black influence, all with an irreverent tone that delights as it educates.

Community Voice

A weekly talk show where we highlight inspiring stories of people of color in Philadelphia and South Jersey and how they're making a difference in the City. From young to old, parents to politicians, entrepreneurs to educators, neighbors to new people in the city, Community Voice wants to hear the voice of the people in the city to help create connections and provide resources to build caring and prosperous communities in Philadelphia and New Jersey. Hosted by Jeffrey Jones.

CRAIC Radio

Sean Timmons and Fergus Carey co-host the CRAIC Radio show on Thursdays at 5:00pm. "Craic" is an Irish word for good conversation, lively company and great tunes. We share our passion for music new and old and feature a guest who is making music that matters. That's the CRAIC!

FB: facebook.com/craicradioshow

MIXCLOUD: CraicRadio

EMAIL: craicradioshow@gmail.com

Cratebeats

DJ Kid Charlamagne does all vinyl mixes of throwback jams. Funk, soul, disco, boogie from '75 - '85 is my wheelhouse. He also throws in rock, jazz fusion, and love just about anything '80s. I'm obviously also a big fan of Steely Dan, i.e. "speaker testing music."

Diddie Wa Diddie

Hugh Wilikofsky curates an atmospheric showcase of some of the best underground, raw, and out there sounds. No genre is off the table, no time period ignored.

Appalachian folk might rub elbows with UK dub, avant-garde jazz with footwork, deep soul with harsh noise and they all might find they have a lot more in common than they thought. You might learn something. You'll definitely enjoy yourself.

Dr. Joe's Groove

Dr. Joe Lex offers a radio show for nostalgic OCDs. Each episode features news and music (mostly jazz) from exactly 60 years ago this week in the first hour. Second hour more free-form, like old late-1960s FM. Maybe music collected in his world travels. Maybe highlighting a particular artist or genre. Maybe 10 versions of the same song. Maybe best covers of another artist's songs. It's sort of free-form, but always entertaining and probably educational.
